District Saddened By Death of Peter Dawson

Speaker in the Alberta Legislature for the past 26 years and MLA for Little Bow since 1935, Hon. Rev. Peter Dawson of Vulcan died suddenly on Sunday, March 24, following a heart attack in his Legislative Building suite in Edmonton. He would have been 71 in April.

A resident of Champion for many years and United Church minister at Champion and at Carmangay before moving to Vulcan upon his retirement as a minister, Mr. Dawson had been in good health. When he was stricken on Sunday he was attended by Dr. J. Donovan Ross, health minister, and was rushed by ambulance to the University Hospital, where he died shortly after arrival.

Well known and well liked, Mr. Dawson had been re-elected as this constituency's representative in 1940, 1944, 1952, 1955 and 1959.

Born in Slatford, Ayreshire, Scotland, he came to Canada in 1911. He was a graduate of St. Stephen's Theological College, Edmonton. A life-long Mason, he was a Past Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Alberta, A.F. & A.M.

He was married in 1926 to the former Hildegard Christine Halenquist, who survives him. There are two sons, Earland McMurray and David Gilmour, both residing in Eastern Canada.

Mr. Dawson was honored last year on the occasion of his silver anniversary as Speaker of the House. Among the honors was a life membership in the Alberta Legislative Press Gallery Association, of which he had been honorary president through the years.

Mr. Dawson's body was to rest in state Wednesday morning in the House and a state funeral was to be conducted at Robertson United Church, Edmonton, at 2:30 p.m., Wednesday. Further services will be held at the Vulcan United Church on Thursday, March 28, at 2:00 p.m., with the Vulcan Funeral Home in charge. Interment will be in the Vulcan cemetery.

Among the many tributes paid was that by Premier Ernest Manning, who said: "In his passing we have lost a great public servant, a great man and a great friend. The reputation he built with his fair judgements and honest advice won him the confidence and respect of all members of the Assembly and extended beyond the borders of Alberta. I know all the members of the government, the Legislature and all his friends outside the House join me in extending deepest sympathy to his family."

Good Variety In One-act Plays

The four one-act plays to be presented in Vulcan on April 4, three by the Vulcan Drama Group and one by the Carmangay Queen Dramettes, are now in the final stages of preparation.

"Happy Journey" is a classic play, using no scenery as there is no specific place represented. It "disconcerts" family life.

The Queen Dramettes of Calgary are school girls from 13 to 16 years of age. Their drama club has been active for the past year. Their play "Mouse to the Rescue," started as a five-minute skit with four characters but has been re-written and enlarged to a one-act play with five scenes and 11 characters.

"Heaven Lightning" is a short, modern mystery involving three characters and takes place at a bus stop.

"For the Love of a Horse" is the play entered in the Southern Alberta Festival. Known as a "ranking play," its setting is Prince Edward Island in 1819 and it portrays the simple life and hardships of the early Irish settlers.

Mrs. Sharpe, on behalf of the organization extended a very hearty vote of thanks to Mrs. Frey for her lovely address.

"Crack Down" On Tobacco For Youngsters

Smoking in public places by persons under the age of 16 and the sale of tobacco in any form to those under 16 years of age have been the subjects of recent action by the Vulcan RCMP Detachment and the town police.

Under the Tobacco Restraint Act, it is an offence for anyone under the age of 16 years to smoke or chew tobacco in a public place such as cafes, skating rinks, schools, etc. or on the street, or to purchase or have any kind of tobacco in their possession.

Section 2 of the Act prohibits stores, cafes or persons from selling or giving cigarettes or any other form of tobacco, directly or indirectly, to persons under the age of 16 years. All tobacco outlets in Vulcan have been informed of the provisions of the Act and have been further warned that they cannot permit anyone under the age of 16 years to smoke on their premises.

Joseph Sutor Services At High River

A resident of the Vulcan district since 1944, J. Joseph Sutor died suddenly after a long illness at Calgary General Hospital, Mar. 11. He was 61 years of age.

Born at Gladys, Feb. 5, 1902, he attended school at Gladys and in 1933 was married to Miss Doris Raycroft of Dinton, making their home in the Blackie district till 1944. In that year the family moved to the Vulcan district, residing there since that time.

Mr. Sutor was predeceased by one son, Donald Dean, born and died in 1939. He is survived by his wife and son Bernard; three sisters, Mrs. Effie Fisk of Calgary, Mrs. Pearl Baker of Hinton and Mrs. Leslie McAllister (Margaret) of Blackie; and six brothers, Andrew of Duchess, Alfred, William, Clarence, Leslie and Sam, all of Blackie.

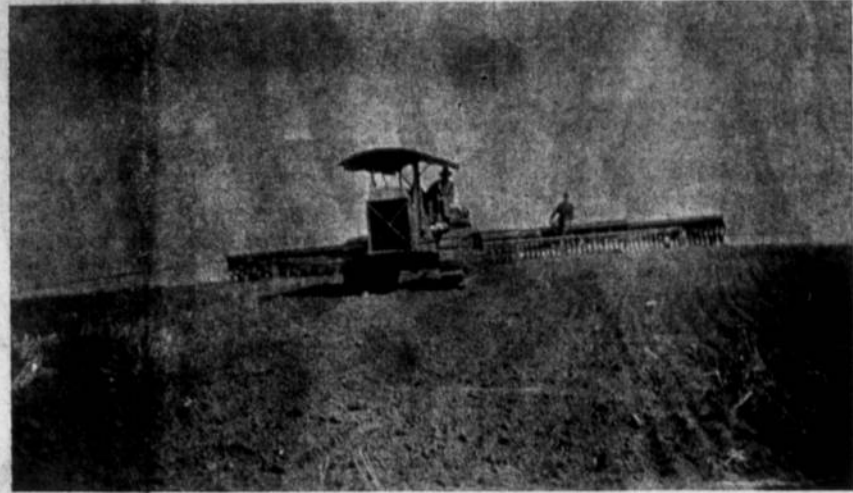

Funeral services were held from High River United Church on Thursday, March 14, with Rev. C. McNutt of Blackie officiating. Interment was in Gladys cemetery, with the Snodgrass funeral home in charge.

Clyde M. Russell Dies At Brooks

Clyde Matthew Russell passed away in the Brooks Hospital on Saturday, March 9, at the age of 75 years. He was born in North Dakota, USA, coming to Southern Alberta in 1923. He lived in various towns including the Queenstown district, where he returned in 1959. Here he farmed for some time until he recently retired to the Newbrook Lodge in Brooks.

Surviving are: One daughter, Mrs. Bernice Winch of Majorville; a son, John Franklin Russell of Colton, Calif.; 11 grandchildren; 11 great grandchildren; a brother, Harold Russell, Seattle, Wash.

Services were held in the Brooks United Church on Monday, March 11, at 2:00 p.m., with Rev. Leonard Ling officiating. Interment was in the Brooks Cemetery under the direction of Smith Funeral Home. Pall bearers were Gordon Boyd,

Along with the many old time photos appearing at intervals in the Advocate is the above shot of five Press Drills in operation, loaned by Howard Burrell of the Vulcan district. The photo shows

Howard on the "60" Cat, a new and most powerful model of the day, and on one of the Drills, which in all extend 52 1/2 feet, is Cliff Todd. The outfit was working the Benny Mensinger place eight miles east and five miles north of Vulcan in 1929. Howard recalled drilling 320 acres of flax, which required light pulling, in 15 hours with the Cat.

Costs Are Within Estimates

Contract Let For Town Water Project

The contract for construction of the town of Vulcan's Little Bow water project has been let to Alberta Utility Builders Ltd. of Calgary in the amount of $243,625. Other costs to be paid by the Town bring the total estimated cost of the project to $302,501, just $250 under the engineers' estimates.

Other bids received were: Borger Construction, Calgary, $310,000; Burns & Dutton, Calgary, $276,554;

G. C. McLeod & Co., Edmonton, $254,598.

Five tenders were received for the pipe required, that of Interprovincial Steel & Pipe Corporation in the amount of $101,592 being accepted. Eight tenders were received for supplying pumps, that of Electrical Contracting & Machinery Ltd., in the amount of $7,119 for Peerless pumps being accepted. The tendered cost of the pipe and pumps is included in the $243,625 general contract let to Alberta Utility Builders.

The additional expenditures which bring the total cost of the project up to $302,501 are: Extra gravel (to be placed nine inches deep over the plastic lining of the reservoirs) $6,500; Sales tax on pipe (refundable) $5,695; Power installation $9,000; Easements (50 acres at $90) $4,500; Reservoir sites (37 acres at $200) $7,400; Intake land $500; Survey costs $2,530; Legal fees $500; Engineering services $22,922; Soil survey $629; Local Authorities Board $130; Advertising tenders $70.

Conservative Policies Have Aided Western Farmers

Devaluation of the Canadian dollar and large sales of wheat to Red China have made possible a final wheat payment, averaging 43 cents which is the highest in the history of the Wheat Board, said the Hon. Alvin Hamilton, federal minister of agriculture, as he addressed an audience of about 100 at the high school auditorium in Vulcan Monday night.

Speaking on behalf of Dr. Lawrence E. Kindt, MP, Progressive Conservative candidate in Macleod riding, Mr. Hamilton said that the government believed in selling grain to any country that can pay for it and this, coupled with an aggressive selling policy, has helped empty the elevators and put cash in the farmers' pockets. The final payment this year, ranging from 40.6 cents on No. 1 wheat to 61.17 cents on No. 6 wheat and added to the initial payment of $150 per bushel for No. 1 (basis Fort William), brings the total payment for the 1962 wheat crop to $1.96 per bush for No. 1 to $1.732 for No. 6.

The Liberals wanted to restrict grain production, the Minister said, and this was their only proposed solution to the apparent overproduction of wheat. But, he said, the Progressive Conservatives are encouraging the production of grain and their slogan could well be: "You grow it — we'll sell it." In 1963 the government wants the western farmers to grow the same quantity of wheat and oats as last year. There is an over-supply of durum wheat, so less of this should be grown, but an additional 100 million bushels of feed barley is wanted.

As the result of Progressive Conservative policies, income is up for the Western grain growers and beef producers, said the speaker. The next step must be to raise the farm income in Quebec and the Maritimes, he said.

Speaking to the audience before he introduced Mr. Hamilton, Dr. Lawrence E. Kindt, MP, emphasized the importance of the constituency having a member on the government side of the house. Nothing can be accomplished if a constituency's representative is of a "splinter party," he said. A government member can help in relocating industry in his constituency or in helping new industries get established. Recent gas and oil discoveries in the Vulcan district should, in time, lead to establishment of petro-chemical industries in this area, said Dr. Kindt.

The West was sadly neglected during 22 years of Liberal government, he said. The big need now is for a majority Progressive Conservative government so the job of improving Canada's economy can be continued.

D. H. Galbraith was chairman of the meeting.

Red Cross Fund Finds Wide Use

International assistance provided by the Women's Work Committee of the Canadian Red Cross last year cost $175,000. This figure represents only the cost of raw materials and does not include the cost of warehousing, shipping and other expenses, or the time, talent and energy of the volunteers.

Elevator System Is Streamlined Says U.G.G. Pres. A. M. Runciman

Somewhat nettled by recent remarks from various sources that elevator companies haven't changed their grain handling system in 50 years, and are still operating on horse and buggy basis, A. M. Runciman, President of United Grain Growers, told a farmers' meeting at Vulcan on Tuesday, March 20, that he believed Western Canada has a very efficient elevator system, which will stand comparison with any in the world because of improvements which are constantly taking place. Changes have been going on and will take place even more rapidly in the future.

"In 1917, over 60 companies operated more than nine elevators in Western Canada. Today there are 16," said Mr. Runciman.

"This has enabled existing elevator companies to cut duplication of field and head office services and allowed consolidation — with one agent handling two elevators — at many points."

The president of United Grain Growers, who spoke last week at Taber, Vulcan and Claresholm, said that his company numbers amongst its country properties elevators that were once owned by 17 other companies.

He cautioned those attending the meeting, however, that they couldn't expect elevator organizations to dismantle "holus-bolus" at their old elevators immediately, simply to replace them with the large efficient plants being so freely advocated by people who will not be sharing their cost.

"Our old elevators are paid for

Brass Shield Evidence Of 1917 Automobile Club

Evidence that as long ago as 1917 Vulcan supported a flourishing automobile club was found some time ago by Bueford Walker in the form of a brass shield measuring about two inches by three and a half inches and bearing the words "Vulcan — 1917 — Automobile Club."

Apparently designed to be attached to an automobile, the brass shield is in excellent condition. With Vulcan's 50th anniversary being celebrated this year, it would be interesting to know if any of the members of this 1917 automobile club are still living and if they recall the names of other members, or any other information about the club that may be of interest. The Advocate would be pleased to hear from any such former Vulcan residents.

India Is Topic At Keystone Meeting

The regular March meeting of the Keystone Class was held at the home of Mrs. S. Nafziger, with 17 members and four visitors present. Roll call was answered by naming a commandment.

Mrs. Shada Dunbar of Grande Prairie, who has been visiting with friends and relatives here, was the guest speaker for the afternoon and gave a most interesting account of her stay in India, where she spent considerable time during 1962 visiting with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rempel, missionaries in Kangra, India. Mrs. Dunbar told much of the country and its customs and of the work of the missionaries in that area.

At the close of the meeting, a social period was enjoyed and a delicious lunch was served by the hostess and her assistants.

A. M. RUNCIMAN

and written off and this has enabled us to keep down storage and elevation charges. A 30,000 bushel elevator cost $7,000.00 to build 40 years ago. Today such an elevator would cost $45,000.00. A new 140,000 bushel composite elevator costs almost $125,000.00.

Mr. Runciman forecast a trend to bigger elevators and to bigger points. He said that farmers prefer the competitive situation at bigger points.

Mr. Runciman saw no great cause for concern about rail line abandonment in Southern Alberta. He felt this problem was most critical in the central and northern areas.

21 Speakers Take Part In High School "Career Night"

A large capacity crowd of 800 attended Career Night in the County Central High School on Thursday, March 21, to listen to 21 speakers.

Mr. Aldridge, director of guidance for Alberta introduced the main speakers for the evening. Mr. Aldridge very aptly pointed out to the students and their parents the need for knowledge of careers and vocations and as he introduced each speaker he gave highlights of the career which the speaker represented. After the introduction the assembled people broke up into groups to hear the speakers give their talks twice during the evening on their particular fields.

Speakers for the evening were: University training, Miss McWilliams; Nursing technician, Mrs.

The intricacies of her job at the Vulcan Hospital, where Sylvia Dicks is Lab Technician don't bother her but facing the chore of changing to new licence plates is just too baffling. To the rescue are two single, handsome Advocate staffers, Sterling Anderson and Ronnie Brinton who had the lady back on the road in a jiffy. All of which goes to emphasize that time is flying for those not yet equipped with 1963 plates.

The first Alberta rural fire protection conference was held recently in Red Deer. The conference attracted more than 130 fire chiefs, council members, reeves and directors of rural fire protection organizations from all areas of the province.

The agenda ranged from the purposes of fire protection and organization to types of equipment in use. Delegates reported on the organization, problems and successes of their local fire fighting units, and covered aspects of insurance rates and coverage.

Chairman of the two-day program, Provincial Fire Commissioner Austin Bridges, stated delegates were agreed that the objects of the conference were accomplished.

There was a free exchange of information about rural fire protection plans now operating. As a result of the conference, a working committee was established to assist in formation of other rural fire protection organizations.

Considered one of the prime resolutions of the conference was a decision to request the Provincial Government Department of Municipal Affairs to amend the Town and Village Act to enable towns and villages to enter into joint ownership contracts with rural fire protection associations.

WHAT CAN CROP INSURANCE DO FOR FARMERS?

Crop Insurance is a means of providing farmers with protection on the money invested in their crops against losses due to natural causes. It has the specific function of spreading losses over large areas and many years so that the farmer may substitute annual premiums for irregular and unpredictable losses. And, of course, every scheme must be, taking into consideration federal and provincial contributions, established on a basis which is self-sustaining.

Only the United States has been able to develop any large-scale crop insurance program. This scheme has been in operation since 1946, following a period of several years spent in accumulation of knowledge through test programs. The American plan has been largely used as a basis for formation of the schemes presently operating in Manitoba and Saskatchewan. Under the Canadian constitution, insurance comes under the jurisdiction of the provinces, and so any legislation dealing with the establishment of a crop insurance plan must be provided by the provincial governments.

In July of 1959 the federal government passed the Crop Insurance Act. Under this enabling legislation Canada may enter into agreements with any province which establishes a crop insurance scheme to provide assistance in the form of contributions and loans.

The Act provides that Canada will pay 50 percent of the administrative costs of any insurance scheme plus 20 percent of the premiums paid in any year. The contribution of 20 percent of the premiums is similar to that paid by Canada to the Unemployment Insurance Fund. In addition, Canada may in any year loan to a province up to 75 percent of the amount by which indemnities exceed premium income plus reserves plus $200,000.

There is no compulsory feature in crop insurance but the agreements now in force provide that at least 25 percent of the farmers in any area covered by an insurance scheme must participate before the scheme can operate.

The coverage provided under any agreement with a province shall not exceed the established value of 60 percent of the long-term average yield. The established value of each crop is determined by any method agreed on by Canada and the provinces. The long-term average yield of an insured crop in any area is calculated and determined in a manner approved by the Federal Department of Agriculture. In the Manitoba agreement the long-term average yield is calculated over a 35-year period. However, different periods of time may be used depending largely on yield records which are available.

The following agricultural crops are insurable under the Act: Wheat, Oats, Barley, Rye, Flaxseed, Grain Corn, Buckwheat, Soybeans, Potatoes, Sugarbeets, Tobacco, Sunflower Seed, Rapeseed, Apples, Pears, Peaches, Cherries and Apricots.

In those provinces where the Prairie Farm Assistance Act applies, farmers who take out crop insurance will be exempt from payment of the 1 percent PFMA levy on grain sales and will not be eligible for benefits provided under that Act.

Crop insurance cushions the shock of disastrous crop loss by assuring farmers of financial protection against various natural hazards beyond their control. Thus, crop insurance gives the farmers of a province an opportunity to help themselves and thus provide their own defence against crop disaster.

Nurse Wed At Calgary To Reside In U.S. City

Knox United Church, Calgary, was the setting recently of a winter wedding when vows were exchanged between Madeline Mae, RN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James T. White of this district, and Darrel Clayton Steeby, B.Sc. (Eng.) of New York.

Green baskets of white gladioli and purple baby mums, along with heather sent from Scotland, banked the altar. Rev. Wm. Sayers officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mr. Brown, soloist of the church choir was accompanied by organist, Mr. Wilson.

The bride was given in marriage by both mother and father. She was gown in white silk velvet, fashioned on simple stately lines. The fitted bodice was peaked with a long row of tiny self covered buttons down the back, featuring lily point sleeves. Her tiered veil of illusion net was held in place with a coronet of velvet leaves. White satin shoes, a bouquet of American Beauty roses, and a single strand of cultured pearls completed her ensemble.

The age-old wedding tradition

"something old . . ." was supplied by a gold clasp worn by the bride, which had been worn by her grandmother, Mrs. Gordon Murray, on her wedding day 67 years ago. The bride's sister, Miss Lillian White, was maid of honor, and was frocked in red velvet, with headpiece of self-fabric and red shoes. She wore a pearl necklace and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Mrs. White, mother of the bride, selected for the occasion an aquamarine embossed nylon sheath with matching shoes and white accessories and a corsage of Talsman roses.

Best man was Jake Schaffer of Calgary and Bruce White of this district ushered the guests.

The wedding breakfast was held in the church parlor with 47 guests in attendance. The touch of "something borrowed . . ." another lucky symbol, was well preserved linen banquet cloth, brought from Scotland by grandmother White in 1913 and covered the head table which was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake flanked by candleabra and decorated with flowers from the altar. The other tables were adorned with lily of the valley. The blessing was asked by Rev. Wm. Sayers. The toast to the bride was proposed by N. Cadman of Calgary, to which the groom very fittingly responded.

MC Art Simpson, of Bassano, proposed a toast to the maid of honor. He read telegrams of congratulations from the USA, Canada and England, then addressed the guests and as usual added a little bit of humor to the occasion. The guest book was in charge of Mrs. N. Whitehead, cousin of the bride. For going away, the bride changed to an electric blue woolen sheath, black persian lamb jacket, black shoes and white accessories.

The newly-weds spent a few days in Canada, returning to New York, before going to their new home at Newport News in Virginia on Feb. 27.

Sunshine Club Honors Secretary

The Sunshine Ladies met at the home of Mrs. Dale Markert on March 13 with 11 members and two visitors present. The meeting opened with a discussion on adopting a Korean child for a one year period, which was moved and carried. Plans were made to cater to Bert Methers' sale on April 4.

Mrs. Lillian Hartung invited the ladies to her home for the afternoons of March 19 and 20, to work on the quilt being made by the club.

Mrs. Irene Cuthforth was named secretary for the remainder of the year. A gift was presented to Mrs. May Methers, secretary for the past few years, who is leaving the district. May graciously thanked the ladies.

Roll call was answered by wearing something green and giving a verse pertaining to the Irish. The tea raffle was won by Mrs. Methers.

Mrs. Thora Burrell gave a very fine demonstration on making a quilt from old nylons. This was very much enjoyed by all.

The serving of an excellent lunch by the hostess and her helpers brought a lovely afternoon to a close. The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Thora Burrell on April 10.

O.K.! O.K.! I got you man the first time. We dig that these here have no real beauty. They're not hot, they're not super on those speedy getaways. But man how's about giving an ear to an ancient fogey who's been digging around them a long time. Some of these pre-historic sedans are more souped up than the jazzy couple doored hardtops and topless buggies and will take you space flying just as well. And, wow man, will you be surprised that the little woman hitch along will dig you even better! Now here's the splashy digouts, honey chile! And hear this—

SERIOUSLY! By buying one of these sedans you can save yourself and your folks anywhere from $200 to $1000, depending on how hot a number you had your sights set on. Discuss this with them and maybe what you save on the car can be put away for university and I'll guarantee you will look back some day and say, "Boy, that was a smart move." Figuring roughly, you can add $50 to $100 to your future monthly pay cheque for every year of university.

— THINK IT OVER, WON'T YOU? —

All car lots are filled with old sedans at good buys but the snazzy 2-door hardtops and ragtops are scarce, consequently you pay twice what they are worth.

Be seeing you—
keep your nose in those school books!

THE BEST OF BOTH WORLDS~ FREE ENTERPRISE ELECTRICITY!

It seems hard to believe that anyone would want to undermine the free enterprise spirit that built Alberta. Yet there is a small minority who wish to turn our vital electric utilities into a government monopoly.

It is claimed that they are monopolies of necessity — and might as well be government monopolies! Nothing could be more misleading.

Right now, Alberta has the best of two worlds — free enterprise initiative, plus judicious control by the present government. The operation of investor-owned utilities is closely scrutinized by government bodies, who regulate such matters as consumer rates and overall planning. Uncontrolled power monopolies simply don't exist.

Government-owned power would be such an uncontrolled monopoly. It would be called "public power", but the present right of appeal to the Public Utilities Board would be lost. A few people might think this better than the present system of free enterprise initiative with judicious government control. Some might . . . but do you?

Cigarettes and Youngsters

The Tobacco Restraint Act, which prohibits anyone under the age of 16 years from smoking in a public place or having cigarettes or other forms of tobacco in their possession; and also prohibits the sale or giving away of any tobacco product to persons under the age of 16 years, has probably not been publicized as much as it could have been in recent years.

A recent "crack-down" by RCMP and town police in Vulcan was motivated by the sight of eight- and nine-year-old youngsters nonchalantly lighting up cigarettes as soon as they were out of the school grounds and by the all too common practice of early teen-agers smoking in cafe booths.

This flagrant flouting of the law by the youngsters was probably due in large part to ignorance of the law. Any tobacco retailer, however, certainly knows that selling tobacco to persons under the age of 16 is prohibited by law.

Any effort is worthwhile if it does no more than delay the acquiring of the cigarette habit by our youngsters.

Farm Operating Agreements

In this era of high farm investment and mechanization it is most important to make plans early if the family farm is to be kept in the family. Here are some farm operating agreements and types of transfer arrangement suggested by Dr. Glen R. Purnell, Director of Alberta's Farm Economics Branch.

A fairly common operating agreement is the wage agreement where the son is paid for his work. This is alright for a temporary arrangement but should be replaced as soon as possible by a more permanent one offering more incentive to the future owner or owners.

In an enterprise agreement, the son has the main responsibility for one or more enterprises on the basis of their being self-sustaining. This should not, however, be his only responsibility. He should share in other phases of the operation so that he can fully learn the farm business.

A rental arrangement is another type of business agreement. In this case a share basis rather than a cash rent is usually better because the son is often not in a position to cope with the risk and capital involvement on his own.

If a father-son partnership is adopted it should always be in writing and cover the purpose of the agreement, the duration, the type of legal relationship, the contributions of each party, how and by whom the records are to be kept, the division of income, the limitations of each partner's actions and have provision for final transfer.

Incorporating the farm is still another type of business agreement. In Alberta a farmer can incorporate under the Companies Act. It is not, however, generally advantageous to incorporate unless the capital investment of the farm is between $75,000 and $100,000 and the taxable income around $10,000 a year.

Dr. Purnell says there are advantages and disadvantages to both partnerships and incorporating. The advantages of a partnership over a corporation are that it is easily dissolved, less expensive and involves less red tape such as annual reports, audits, etc. The disadvantages include unlimited liability — each partner is liable for the others debts, transfer of assets is not clear-cut and the agreement can be cancelled by the death or withdrawal of one partner.

In the case of a corporation, it is in perpetual existence, it facilitates smooth transfer by shares, there is limited liability, meaning participants are not liable for debts or actions of the company and there can be tax advantages on larger farms.

Regarding farm transfer, Dr. Purnell point out that it can be done by will, gift, agreement of sale, cash and mortgage and by rental with an option to buy. However, there are several points which must be very carefully considered before anyone of these arrangements is decided upon. They include provision for an adequate income for the parents, provision for an adequate income for the person taking over the farm, provision for compensation to other children, consideration of Federal and Provincial Income and Estate Tax laws, approval of the plan by all parties concerned and consultation with a solicitor on the legal aspects of the proposed transfer arrangement.

Dr. Purnell strongly advises farmers with questions to consult their district agriculturist regarding the best arrangement for their particular circumstances. When this has been settled they should contact a competent lawyer.

Beards Broadcasting Vulcan's Anniversary

As is generally known—and what visitor to Vulcan does not notice the obvious—there's a beard growing contest on in town, and as the second month of the marathon reaches its last few days they're starting to separate the beards from the bars.

It's all for a good cause though, to help publicize the coming celebration of Vulcan's 50th Anniversary to be held June 29, 30 and July 1. However in many households there is growing fear that this return to nature is being enjoyed rather than endured by the boss of the home who has always wondered what it would be like to take the lazy man's approach and bypass the shaver in the morning and get away with it.

At either of the barber shops in town membership buttons inscribed "Vulcan 50th Anniversary Beard Contestant" can be purchased for two dollars and with the Elks, who instigated it all, there is a fine for removing the beard. Entire families have arisen to the cause willing to pay father's fine but no soap. The beard stays.

There is this to be said for the bearded ones though. The first month was the toughest. At first this new found toy was firstly to touch and plumb itchy but those problems didn't hold a candle to its appearance. Some faces ranged in appearance all the way from a bad hang-over to malnutrition types during those first weeks but now those who have whatever it takes to grow a bush are doing just that. Others, not so graciously endowed, are cutting down to the goatee style while the have-nots are holding on for grim life hoping for rain this spring.

To see a man wandering about in farm overalls and a beard is not too odd-looking but someone should have thrown in a rule covering local business men—and there's a batch of them involved—and the wearing of suits with this gear. It's a jolting sight to walk into an office and be met by a man impeccably dressed from the neck down in fresh white shirt and tie, suit and polished shoes but from the neck up resembling a bush worker on a quick trip to the outside.

Setting up beard categories is going to be a problem for officials.

For instance, two friends met a couple of weeks ago to check each other's whisker situation and one cried, "Shucks, man, you're disqualified, there's no prize for strawberry roans."

Overheard in a barber shop the other day was a solution for farmers who dread the idea of going on the land day after day on a tractor and living with a beard full of dust. All you have to do is invest in a fly swatter, mark it "For beards only" and at the end of each day rap your face smartly with it several times and step away till the dust clears.

Revenue at the barber shops is still holding its own through it all. It is true the number of shave customers has fallen off but this is more than made up by the whisker trim business which has cropped up. The problem is to find the style of trim that properly complements the facial characteristics of each customer.

One worry that arises now that the disease has caught on so strongly is that the scheme may defeat its purpose. We'll be welcoming back neighbors and friends during the celebration and there's danger they may spend the three days here and not know who they met.

The old friendly greeting around town these days is not "How's your old straw hat?" but "Hi Charlie, how's your hairy old beard?" ... you are Charlie, aren't you?" To all wives and sweethearts, check the calendar. Three more months and four more days.

First Public Health Nurse
Served Lomond In 1940

Many years ago — Nov. 2, 1939 a public meeting was held in Lomond, when a Miss Conroy outlined to those present what was required to have a Public Health Nurse for this district.

A committee of: president, E. L. Davis, secretary, J. Flynn and trustees, Mrs. R. Frost, Mrs. J. A. Simpson, C. L. Booth and C. B. Robertson was elected. Forty-seven people present voted in favor of placing a Public Health Nurse in this district. None opposed.

In January, 1940, the first nurse Miss Grant took up residence in Lomond in a small three-roomed house that was to be office and home of the Municipal Nurse. This home was through the years repaired, added to, and made over until finally in the fall of 1960 the water and forced air furnace were put in.

On Feb. 13, 1941 under the Societies Act the Lomond District Nursing Association was formed.

The original signers for this association were: William Brown, Mrs. O. T. Sande, Mrs. R. Frost, M. Maronda, C. Susinski, Robert E. Donaghy, Mrs. Lillie Root, H. Taylor, F. A. Sande and Miss R. Alder.

It will be up to us, as a consumer, whether we make these changes in packaging successful. Remember, it's costing us, as a consumer, money! So let's be "be-aware" and show our preference for a simple package or container.

You can expect these trends in the early part of 1963:

— Soft-drink bottles of blown styrene. (Can they overcome our preference for glass?)

— Lighter tin cans (made of thinner tin-plate steel).

— Delicate items packed in polyurethane foam (poured into a carton around the product and allowed to harden).

— Single-serve (or single-dose) packages for shampoos, patent medicine tablets dessert toppings, condiments).

— More novelty packs (example: shampoo in a polythene "baseball" bottle that can be used later as a toy).

— Combination pouches holding bleach and detergent.

— Many foods in bags you can boil.

— More sophisticated versions of tear-top cans, plastic milk bottles, heat and serve food containers.

— Moisture-proof bags to keep dehydrated foods dry a year or more.

— Simpler use of colors on packages. (Designers now think store shelves look confusing.)

— More compact packages (continuing the eastern Canada trend toward stubby beer bottles).

— Glass carboys encased not in wood but in molded polystyrene.

— Better non-drip spouts on bottles.

— Cardboard "cans" with zip-top aluminum lids.

— Aluminum-foil cheese dip containers you open with a tear tab. Some of the above changes will be an advancement in efficiency, yet on the other hand many are to appeal to our emotion and gadget buying. These fancy containers are costing us money! This is one of the reasons why the producer's share of the consumer dollar is decreasing.

The Canadian Red Cross Enquiry Bureau handled requests from 38 countries last year, and replied to over 6,500 enquiries.

Ross Ruggles agreed to approach the board with this problem. It was decided that Mrs. Maurice Henrickson would act as delegate to the Home and School Association Convention in Edmonton. The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Floyd Howg.

A discussion on graduation exercises followed and it was decided that they would be carried on in the same manner as last year. Mr. Ruggles reported on the Institute at Carmangay.

The meeting was adjourned and the program turned over to the teachers. Mr. Liebreich outlined the program to the audience and called upon each participating teacher in turn to present their portion of the program.

The evening was brought to a close by the serving of a delicious lunch.

RCMP Distributes New Booklet On Crime Prevention

"Crime Prevention" is the subject of Booklet No. 7, which has been prepared for distribution by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police under the general title of "Crime in Your Community". The RCMP Police instituted this series of booklets several years ago and they have dealt with such matters as "Armed Robbery", "Bad Paper", etc. The results have shown that an alert and well informed public can, in certain categories of crime, make it very difficult for the criminal to succeed.

The booklet is made up of illustrations, in silhouette, and is directed to the householder and the business man.

Booklet No. 7 shows law enforcement as requiring the support of all citizens. It stresses the importance of preventing crime and contains a number of suggestions which, if observed, will help to reduce the incidence of crime. This booklet will be distributed across Canada by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

In the girls final game played at 5:00 p.m. ended with Vulcan defeating Milo by an 18-7 score. Point scorers for Vulcan were, Ina Haverty 12, Karen Boutland 4, Marilyn McKay 2. Point scorers for Milo were, Terry Heather 6, Dianne Gooch 1.
In the boys final Vulcan defeated Champion by a score of 26-22.
Points scorers for Vulcan— Paul Volsey 8, Gerald Cutforth 6, Tom Babuk 4, Chuck Brinton 4, Allan Lebsack 4.
Points scorers for Champion— Brian Kranzler 6, Jim Rhodes 4, Jack Roebuck 4, Richard Siler 2, Ken Rozander 2, David Matlock 2, Brian Lebsack 2.
After the games, the trophies were presented to the captains of the winning teams by E. K. Hawkesworth, Superintendent of Schools. The players of all teams consisting of 128 in number are to be commended on their skillful playing and good sportsmanship.
